

Manual Handling Full Day Training Course

Who should attend?

If there is a child/young person in your setting with a physical disability who requires manual handling, staff supporting that child will need to be qualified in manual handling. Manual handling may include transfers such as wheelchair to a plinth, floor to a class chair, walking frame to a trike and so on.

About the course

On completion, delegates will feel confident to apply the theory and practical elements of the relevant handling techniques required to assist the young person they are supporting.

This course includes the following theory elements:

- Legal Requirements.
- Importance of Safe Load Management.
- Spinal Awareness.
- Muscular-Skeletal Injury.
- Looking after yourself.
- APPEE System of Safer Manual Handling.
- Base to Face Safety Checkpoints.
- Risk Assessments.
- Inclusion.
- Understanding Disability.

Delegates will have the opportunity to complete practical transfers that they are supporting within school.

Extra Information

Manual handling training is valid for 2 years and after that delegates need to complete a refresher course every year.

Staff attending are required to be fit and well and have no existing medical conditions or injuries that could affect their ability or present a risk when performing manual handling.
