

Continence...

Right to go guidance – from ERIC

The new Right to Go guidance was launched this year. It can be found on the website as follows <http://www.eric.org.uk/Campaigns/TheRightToGo>

There is also a traffic light banner to stimulate interest via the home page: <http://www.eric.org.uk/>

This information was put together in partnership with PromoCon and funded by The Roddick Foundation – we are delighted that this valuable publication is now available as a resource.

“The Right to Go” resource has been developed to enable school staff, healthcare professionals and parents to work through the issues surrounding toileting problems in a very practical way.

It provides information on the development of common childhood continence problems, how to create a continence policy and individual health care plans, how to promote bladder and bowel health in schools and ways to support children with special needs who have continence issues.

It highlights the need for schools, health agencies and parents to work in partnership to ensure that child continence issues are managed effectively - and where possible, help the child to achieve continence.”

Please do have a look and spread the word, we can send hard copies of the shorter leaflet on request.
